

HARVIN-SUSONG NUPTIALS

Many Attend Beautiful Wedding
at "Seclusion Bend."

On Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, at Seclusion Bend, the country home of Mrs. Sue E. Susong, occurred one of the notable as well as one of the most beautiful weddings of the season, when Mrs. Susong's lovely daughter Katherine and Mr. Lucius Harvin of Manning, S. C., took upon themselves the sacred marriage vows.

Dr. J. M. Burnett of Jefferson city spoke the impressive words that sealed their pledges, and united their destinies for life.

The day was an ideal one for an out-of-doors wedding. The velvet lawn beneath a giant elm a fitting altar. Here assembled the wedding party preceded by the dainty ribbon bearers, Miss Carolyn Carty and Miss Annie Smith, while music from the Bridal Chorus of Lohengrin was charmingly rendered by Miss Elizabeth Huff.

Attending the bride were Miss Carrie Lou Stokely, Miss Annie Huff, Miss Hester Susong, Miss Elizabeth Susong as maid of honor, and the little flower girls, Mary Susong and Louisa Hickey. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. John Susong.

Attending the groom were his brothers, Mr. Alex Harvin as best man, and Mr. Cley Harvin. Mr. Sam Barom and Mr. George Stokely.

The bride wore a gown of white messaline veiled with marquisette and curly lace, pearl trimmings. She carried lilies of the valley and bride's roses. Her maid of honor was gowned in a lovely creation of pink messaline. Her other attendants wore white transparenties over pink messaline and carried pink carnations, while the bluest of skies, and the deep green of the surrounding hills completed a picture long to be remembered by the large company of guests present.

The guests on their arrival were refreshed with delicious punch served on the verandah by Miss May Stokely and Miss Josephine Huff. A little later the murmurs of the assembly were hushed as every ear caught the sweet strains of "All for You" as it was sung by Miss Fannie Stokely, followed by "I Love You Truly" feelingly rendered by Miss Love Smith. After the ceremony the guests were summoned to the spacious dining room, where a buffet luncheon was served, Miss Fannie Stokely pouring the tea and Mrs. Rosenblatt serving the ice cream.

Many beautiful and valuable gifts attested the popularity of the bride and groom, who left on the seven-thirty train for Richmond, Va. and other points east. They will be at home after October 1st at Manning, S. C. Guests attending from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Riggsby of Manning, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. Rosenblatt of Greenville, Tenn., Messrs. Alex and Cley Harvin, Sam Brown and Mr. Coffey of Manning, S. C., Misses Virginia and Eula Haynes, Cliffside, N. C., Miss Mary Gudger, Marshall, N. C., Miss Carolyn Carty, Knoxville, Tenn.

FENCES BURNED; SUITS ARE BROUGHT

A case which attracted considerable attention, and also consumed much time was the suit of F. S. Walker against G. B. Caton for damages resulting from the destruction of fences of the plaintiff.

The case was long drawn out, and suit was the first of several, as other suits of like nature were on docket. It was claimed by the plaintiff that his fences were destroyed by fire as a result of carelessness on the part of Mr. Caton.

The defense claimed that Mr. Caton was not responsible for the damage as it was an act of God. Mr. Caton said he was burning up a log heap, and that the flames which did the damage developed a week later, when a stiff wind caused them to spread over adjoining properties.
